Elisha S. Lema

Graphics & Web Developer

I am a tech-savvy, detail and solution-oriented individual with a strong passion for web development and graphic design, supported by effective communication and leadership capabilities. I am driven by the potential of technology to solve real problems and create meaningful user experiences. Through my Community Service Year and freelance work, I have applied my digital skills to support learners, clients, and the wider community. These experiences strengthened my commitment to building purposeful, user-centered digital solutions. I am eager to contribute to organizations that value innovation, impact, and continuous growth, while staying aligned with my goal of positively reaching and serving the community.
